

What is the Women's Giving Fund?

The Women's Giving Fund was established by a diverse group of professional women who wanted to create an inclusive opportunity for female donors to learn about women's economic security issues, focus their giving on issues impacting women and children, and experience the power of collaborative philanthropy.

From that original collaboration to today, the IECF Women's Giving Fund is a way for women to come together to give locally while cultivating a culture of philanthropy, ensure contributions are supporting reputable organizations, and multiplying the effect of donations by combining with other women to enhance the impact.

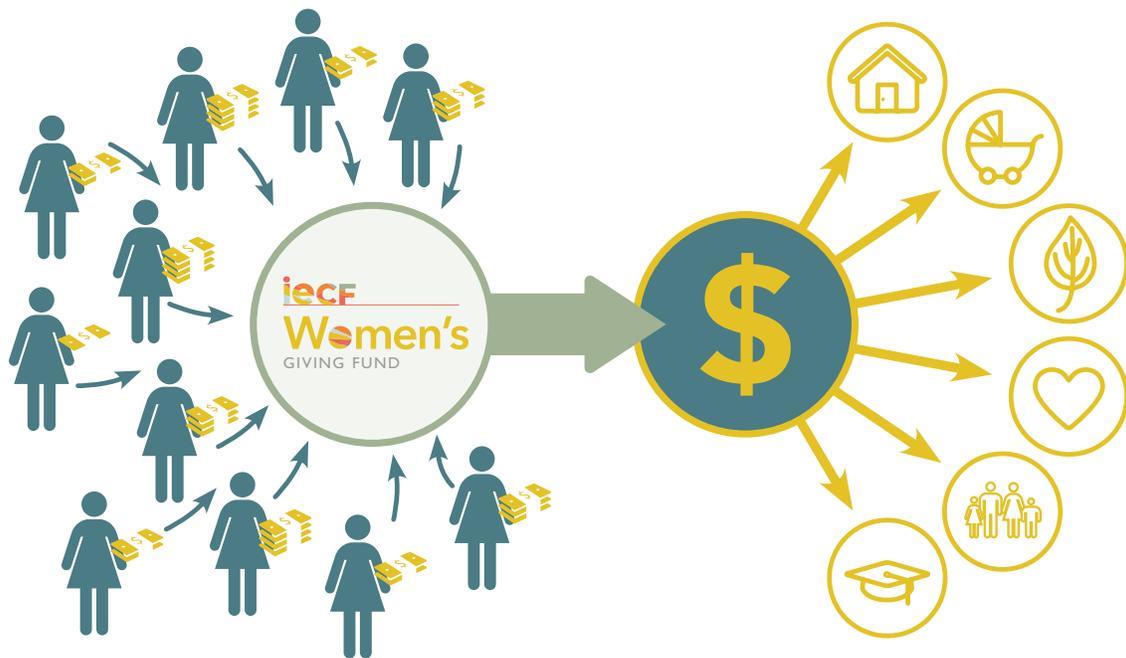

Led by the WGF Planning Committee, the Fund networks with others who care about women's roles as donors and the organizations that serve their issues. One by one, the network is growing and its donors are directing WGF grants to areas of critical need, for maximum impact. The WGF Planning Committee brings donors together at social events to learn about and invest in programs that are doing the work of transforming lives in the region.

Based on the funds raised each year, grants are made at least annually. WGF donors are invited to be part of the Grants Committee that decides where the support will go for the year. A contribution of $100 or more qualifies a donor to be a member of the Grants Committee.

We can't wait for you to get involved and tell others!
